A Quick Change.

When Victor Murdock arrived in Washington as a new congressman he felt that he had the earth in a sling and that money and expenses were minor considerations. Accordingly he went to the most exclusive hotel he could find and took an elaborate suit of rooms.

So gorgeous were his surroundings that when Mrs. Murdock appeared on the scene she asked him what the charges were.

"Oh, I don't know," replied Murdock unconcernedly. "I guess they're all right."

"At any rate," she suggested, "you'd better go down and ask the clerk."

A few minutes later he returned, rushed into the suit like a cyclone and began to throw things into the trunks. Then he stopped long enough to telephone for a baggage man.

"I've figured it out!" he shouted as he slammed up the receiver. "It's costing us $2.16 every minute we stay here. And we're going to move in a minute."—Washington Star

$100 VERDICT AGAINST TOWN

Thousand Dollar Damage Suit Brought by Henry Little against Borough of Gettysburg Tried in Adams County Court.

Henry Little who sued the borough of Gettysburg for injuries and shock alleged to have been sustained in this place last April was today given a verdict of $100.00. The jury deliberated only about a half hour over the case after it was given into their hands Mr. Little had brought suit for $1900

He was represented by Charles E. Stahl, Esq., and J. L. Williams, Esq., and alleged that he sustained a fall on April 26, 1910 at the intersection of West and Chambersburg streets by which he suffered great nervous shock and other injuries. The fall was alleged to have been caused by a defective crossing plate which was claimed to have been in that condition for six months prior to the accident.

Suit was brought on July 27 to recover $1000 for the injuries alleged to have been sustained and efforts were later made by the Borough Solicitor Robert E. Wible to effect a compromise but the terms could not be agreed upon and it came up for trial. Mr. Wible conducted the case for the borough.

Little had recently undergone an examination by physicians following a mutual agreement of counsel for both sides and the testimony of the physicians in the case occupied a large portion of the testimony.

This completed the list to be tried this court, all the others having been either continued or not pressed. It was expected that the case of the Rocky Ridge Company against John R. Bittinger, trading as the Bittering Lime Company, would be tried this week but the sudden illness of one of the witnesses caused a postponement after the jury had been drawn.

MARRIED IN WILMINGTON

Miss Margaret Valentine, of Seminary Ridge, and Mr. Brumbaugh, a student at College, were married in Wilmington, Delaware, on Tuesday afternoon by the Rev. George L. Wolf, pastor of the First Methodist Protestant church of that city. The ceremony took place at the parsonage.

The couple left Gettysburg in the morning and the ceremony took place after their arrival in the Delaware city. They left Wilmington Tuesday evening for Philadelphia. Mr. Brumbaugh's home.

Mrs. Brumbaugh is the eldest daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Sterling G. Valentine, of Springs avenue, a graduate of the Gettysburg High School and a student at Gettysburg College.

Mr. Brumbaugh has been a student at Gettysburg College for the past two years where he has taken an active part in athletics and is one of the best known and most popular students. He is captain of both the foot ball and basket ball teams and a member of the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity. He formerly attended Lafayette College at Easton. He is the son of Dr. S. S. Brumbaugh, a Philadelphia physician.

They are expected home this evening or to-morrow.

NOEL-HOMBACH

Leon Noel, son of Edward Noel, and Miss Lorena Hombach, daughter of Charles Hombach both of McSherrystown, were married at 6 a. m. Saturday, Jan. 21, by Rev. L. Aug. Reutter, in St. Mary's Catholic church. Miss Natalie Noel and Riley Noel, sister and brother of the groom, were the attendants.

After the marriage, the young couple left on a wedding trip to Washington and Philadelphia. On their return, Mr. and Mrs. Noel will go to housekeeping on North street, McSherrystown. The groom is a clerk in the Western Maryland Railway freight office, Hanover.

RUDENESS REBUKED

The limit of rudeness was reached Tuesday evening by a portion of the audience at "The Forger" in Walter's Theatre and so objectionable was their conduct that a public rebuke was administered in the middle of one of the "big scenes" of the show. The play had reached one of its most telling points when boisterous conduct made things so unbearable to the actors that they stopped immediately and in a few well chosen words rebuked the offenders and then proceeded amid respectful silence. It is to be regretted that the well deserved reproof had not been meted out at the time of "The Climax" or other similar high class shows that have sometimes drawn indiscriminate persons to the playhouse. "The Forger" gave little promise of pleasing in the early part of the play but its last two acts were decidedly strong and the attraction was voted one of the best seen at Walter's this season.

GRIMES' CELLAR DOOR

The attraction at Walter's Theatre this evening will be that ever popular and entertaining comedian, James B. Mackie in his new and up to date version of "Grimes' Cellar Door" a farce comedy with music. A pleasing story is woven into the play which is filled with many ludicrous and comical situations, and Mr. Mackie has surrounded himself with a very capable company of musical comedy artists and a beauty chorus of sprightly singing and dancing girls. Many new and up to date musical numbers are introduced, among them being many of Mr. Mackie's original successes, and he is ably assisted by Miss Ethyl Merritt with her wonderful soprano voice, and as an extra feature the original Three English Rosebuds.

MISS ELLA GILLILAND

GOOD SHOWING OF OUR APPLES

Adams County Apples Make Good Display at Fruit Show of State Horticultural Association in Harrisburg.

Adams County apples are attracting much attention in the fruit show being held in connection with the convention of the State Horticultural Association at Harrisburg this week.

The excellence of the apples is especially shown in this display by the pack in boxes and barrels. The quality of the boxed and barreled fruit and the method of wrapping and packing show that the Adams County orchardist is just as greatly alive to his opportunities as his New York or Western neighbor and is determined to reap all the profit possible from his product. It is safe to say that the apples shown this week are just as excellent in all particulars as any of the so-called "fancy" grades shipped to Pennsylvania and other markets from the Western trees.

Fifty exhibitors have apples in the fruit show, and the combined display includes 1,000 plates, fifty boxes and a dozen barrels of apples making about 150 bushels on exhibition among which are seventy-five varieties. The apples range from the well-known Smokehouse, Ben Davis, York Imperial and Sheepshead down through lesser-known varieties to those which are scarcely known at all by name to the public but which their raisers pronounce excellent for eating and cooking. The appearance of all the apples, of whatever name, justifies all the claims which the exhibitors make for them.

The unprecedented size of the fruit show is accounted for by the prizes which are offered and the extent of the big joint agricultural meeting. Heretofore such displays have never been held under such favorable conditions as to attendance and exhibitors could expect no reward except a compliment.

This year, however, material awards await the leaders in the fruit display. Several handsome loving cups have been offered for different classes while in other classes cash prizes will be fruit trees from nurseries, orchard machinery and orchard chemicals. Except for the cash prizes the awards have been made possible by gifts by companies engaged in the manufacture or sale of orchard materials. The material prizes will be awarded only to the first and second winners in the case; the third exhibitor will receive honorable mention and a diploma.

PLEADS FOR ENDOWMENT

An earnest plea for the $300,000 endowment fund for Gettysburg College was made by Dr. William A. Granville, president of the institution, at the annual banquet of the Philadelphia Alumni, held at the Hotel Walton Monday evening. "Unless we pay good salaries," declared Dr. Granville, "we cannot attract the highest type of men for the instruction force. The standard of the faculty has much to do with the efficiency of the college in the work of education."

Ex-Judge Dinner Beeber, of the class of '74, was toastmaster. Among those present were Dr. Allen J. Smith, dean of the University of Pennsylvania Medical school; Rev. Dr. Edwin Heyl Deik, Dr. M. B. Hartzell, Sylvanus Stall, Dr. John Marshall, Dr. W. Wayne Babcock, Dr. Willis Manges, Samuel P. Sadler, Dr. M. H. Valentine and Dr. J. A. Singmaster.

PURCHASED AUTO

Mr. Redding, of the Crescent Auto Company, York street, accompanied by Mr. Shoely, of Cash-town arrived here this morning in an Overland automobile, which was considered by the judges of the Madison Square and Philadelphia auto shows to be one of the most beautiful cars on exhibition. This car was built especially for exhibition purposes and was purchased by the Crescent Auto Company for Sheely Brothers and brought direct from Philadelphia to the York street garage where it is now on exhibition.

MAY INCREASE THEIR SALARIES

Gettysburg Rural Mail Carriers Look forward with Pleasure to Increase in Salaries to a Thousand a Year.

The rural mail carriers from the Gettysburg post office will welcome a likely advance in salary from $900 to $1000 a year. Ten of the thirteen carriers now receive $900, the others getting $720.

The House of Representatives on Tuesday unanimously passed the Post Office Appropriation bill, carrying about $257,000,00.

As soon as the rural free delivery service paragraph was reached in the bill a dozen members were on their feet offering amendments to increase the pay of the rural carriers from $900 a year all the way to $1200. Chairman Weeks, of the Post Office Committee, attempted to limit the debate, but the House would not hear of it.

Chairman Weeks said that unquestionably some of the rural carriers on the harder routes were underpaid. Others, he thought, were receiving all that they deserved. "However," added Chairman Weeks, amid great applause, "the committee is now willing to have the salaries of the rural carriers increased $100 a year." The House then passed with a whoop an amendment providing that after July 1, 1911, the carriers should receive a salary not exceeding $1000 a year.

$4,000 FIRE

The structure erected years ago and occupied by the late Col. W. F. Benchhoff, at Charman, was burned to the foundation about 8 o'clock Monday morning. The loss is about $4000, partially insured.

Of late years it had been occupied by its present owner, Frank L. Tracey, a relative of the late Colonel Benchhoff, who with his wife and one grandchild, were living in the house at the time.

It is thought that the fire caught from the chimney and a few moments later the building was in flames. Miss Hazel Martin and Guy Ridenour sounded the fire alarm, which promptly brought out the Charman fire brigade, which rendered valuable assistance.

Nearly everything of value within the house was saved, with the exception of the furniture and contents of one room and other articles that were in the cellar.

William Spalding has returned from Boston, where he underwent an operation, much improved in health.

Misses Annie and Mame Horner have returned to their home on Chambersburg street after a visit with relatives in Pittsburg.

MAD DOG SCARE AT MONT ALTO

Resident of that Place Bitten by Rabid Canine. Finally Killed It Near Wagaman's Mill. Takes Pasteur Treatment.

Jacob Staley, foreman at the White Pine Sanitarium, Mont Alto was terribly bitten in the arm and hand by his large brindle bulldog. It is believed that the animal was suffering from rabies and it has been shot.

Mr. Staley has left for Lancaster, where he will take the Pasteur treatment in a hospital in that city. He took with him the head of the dog. The brain will be examined for conditions indicating rabies.

The animal having bitten a number of dogs before his death, the owners of these dogs will keep strict watch over them.

Mr. Staley found his dog engaged in a fight with several dogs of the neighborhood and attempted to separate them. The bulldog turned on him and fastened its teeth on his right arm and hand, which are dreadfully torn.

The dog made his escape fighting and snapping at all the animals in his pathway. It then dawned upon Mr. Staley that the dog might have been mad. Summoning help, a party of men started after the animal. They came across him at Wagaman's saw mill and shot him.

Mr. Staley was treated by the physicians at the sanitarium and was advised by them to go to Lancaster.

THE MAN OF THE HOUR

"The Man of the Hour," by George Broadhurst, which has been so much read about for the past three years, will be the offering at Walter's Theatre, Friday, January 27. The Broadhurst play has a strong appeal for those fond of a theatrical discussion of current subjects as contrasted to offerings of the olden times, or of mere society atmosphere and circumstances. No play of the present era has received the attention from press or public that this clever comedy has. Like New York, the Chicago press was unanimous in its encomiums. There was no dissent from the general verdict that "there is the best American play yet written." The managers thus complimented, have left nothing undone in putting before the public in first class manner what is critically and popularly regarded as "the greatest play of the day."

CARRIED THROUGH HOPPER

In an attempt to start a car-load of coal to move through an opened hopper, Emory Shue, of Hanover, was himself drawn into the vortex with the coal and came close to losing his life.

As an employee of J. D. Zehring, Hanover, he was engaged in unloading cars. The pea coal not running when the hopper was opened, Mr. Shue stepped on for the purpose of starting it, when it went with a rush and he with it. When found he was embedded to his neck. Two men, who chanced to be nearby, placed a board in the car, to which the unfortunate man held fast until the coal was removed. Mr. Shue was severely injured about the body, and not able to resume work. His maintaining an upright position alone saved his life.

Provides for the accumulation of a state school fund through the revenues secured from state forest lands.

Provides for the medical examination of school children at the public expense.

Bans the employment of any person with tuberculosis, or the admission to a school of any child suffering from the disease.

Harrisburg, Pa., Jan. 25.—Senator Tustin, of Philadelphia, introduced the school code into the senate. This bill lacks some of the features which made the code of two years ago unacceptable and is expected to pull through.

One of its chief provisions enables the Philadelphia school board to float its own loans and imposes on the school district, as distinct from the city, a proportion of the municipal debt.

By enabling the school district to assume its own loans the Philadelphia debt limit will be increased about $30,000,000.

Elective school boards of fifteen members in Philadelphia and Pittsburg, each member to serve six years; the right of the Philadelphia board to levy a separate tax not to exceed six mills for school purposes and to make loans for building new school buildings; division of the state into four classes of school districts, the first class embracing Philadelphia and Pittsburg; and the divorce of the school control in any way from city councils are the important features of the code.

The school districts of the second class, according to the new code, will be made up of those having a population from 30,000 to 50,000.

In Philadelphia and Pittsburg the school boards will have fifteen members, all of whom will be first appointed by the courts, one-third for two years, one-third for four years and one-third for six years, and at the expiration of their terms their successors will be elected bi-annually at large for terms of six years. This method has been followed, it is explained, because of the demand that a board which has the right to levy school taxes and to borrow money for improvements should be elective rather than appointive.

Beard Can Levy Tax.

The important feature of the code is that which gives the Philadelphia board the right to levy a separate tax and to make loans. This will give the city the opportunity of borrowing additional millions when the school loans are taken over by the board.

The school loans cannot exceed 2 per cent of the valuation of the city.

The school board will be required to pay all school expenses, interest and sinking fund charges on all school tax.

The new code provides for a state board of education of seven members, to be appointed by the governor for six years, the term of one to expire each year. The board members are to serve without pay, and their function will be largely advisory. They will have the power to investigate school problems and recommend new legislation.

The code calls for the accumulation of a state school fund by revenues from the forest lands of the state. The revenues are to be kept intact, only the income from them being used.

Medical inspection for every child in the schools of the state is a feature of the bill. One section gives superintendents and supervising principals the power to select, recommend, adopt and make changes of text books.

Wed 800 Feet in the Air.

San Antonio, Tex., Jan. 25.—While soaring over San Antonio in a dirigible balloon at a height of 800 feet, Miss Marie Shelton and W. Walter Stowe, both of San Antonio, were married. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. H. Adams. The wedding was actually in the clouds, as the day was foggy and misty. The couple enjoyed a honeymoon trip of thirty-five miles across the country before the balloon was brought to the earth.

STATUES WEAR PANTS

First of Barnard Group Put in Place With Modest Drapings.

Harrisburg, Pa., Jan. 25.—The first of the heroic marble figures of the Barnard group of statues was put into place and stripped of its covering and was found to be draped with plaster of paris.

The treatment is in line with what Barnard is reported to have promised when his attention was called to the protests against the nudity of the figures.

The men in charge of the groups say that the plaster will remain until orders are received from Barnard or state officials to remove it.

CLUBS WIFE TO DEATH

Fired at Her and Missed, Then Beat Her to Death With Gun.

Indiana, Pa., Jan. 25.—John McCombs, a farmer, fired at his wife with a rifle, and, missing her, clubbed her to death with the butt of the gun.

He then went to the house of Joseph Pratos, some distance away, and told him what he had done. Pratos refused to believe him, and was preparing to go back with McCombs, when the man entered Pratos' barn and hanged himself. He was cut down in time to save his life.

MRS. WM. THAW, JR., ROBBED OF JEWELS

Gems Valued at $35,000 Stolen From Her Home.

Pittsburg, Pa., Jan. 25.—It became known that while the family of William Thaw, Jr., were at dinner Tuesday night their residence was robbed of jewels to the value of $35,000.

Included in the valuables is a pearl necklace worth $17,000, the property of Mrs. Thaw. She is a sister-in-law of Harry K. Thaw, the slayer of Stanford White. Also she is the mother of William Thaw, 3d, who recently took as his bride Miss Gladys Bradley, of Bridgeport, Conn., the sister of Mrs. Anthony J. Drexel-Biddle, of Philadelphia.

A half hour before dinner Mrs. Thaw had been to the closet where her jewels were kept, with a view to selecting those she would wear. Only her maid was in the room. After locking the door as usual, Mrs. Thaw joined the family in the dining room.

She was absent perhaps thirty minutes. Upon her return she went to the closet for the pearl necklace. The door was locked, but when she looked for the necklace it was gone. Hastily opening the other cases, she discovered all had been emptied of their contents.

Calling out that her jewels were gone, Mrs. Thaw aroused the household. Then it was seen that the thieves had taken nothing but the contents of the closet. A hurried call was sent to the police. Thirty-three detectives, under the personal supervision of the superintendent, are working on the case, while a score or more of plain clothes men are scouring the city in search of the suspects.

$75,000 Fire at Hershey, Pa.

Hershey, Pa., Jan. 25.—Fire destroyed the garage and livery stable owned by Milton S. Hershey, founder of the Hershey Chocolate company, which has an extensive plant at this place. Twenty horses were saved, but much valuable harness, a number of pleasure vehicles, two big French touring cars and several large auto trucks were destroyed. The loss is about $75,000.

Child Witnesses Mother's Suicide.

Chester, Pa., Jan. 25.—Mrs. Ida Brooks, forty-one years old, committed suicide by hanging herself in the room she occupied at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Saville, Eighth and Crosby streets. Mrs. Brooks' daughter, Beatrice, four years old, awakening from a sleep, saw her mother suspended on the closet door.

Woman Slayer Sentenced.

Scranton, Pa., Jan. 25.—Mrs. Leona Lord, convicted at Honesdale of manslaughter in killing her brother-in-law, Silas Lord, at Equinunk, last June, was sentenced to the eastern penitentiary for not less than three and not more than twelve years, and to pay $500 fine.

PHILLIPS DIES OF HIS WOUNDS

Author Passes Away During a Coughing Spell.

ATTACKER HAD DELUSIONS

Goldsborough Held Enmity Towards Author Because Novel Contained Characters Taken From His Family.

New York, Jan. 25.—David Graham Phillips, the novelist, who was shot six times on Monday afternoon by Pittsburgh Cogley Goldsborough in Grammercy Park, died at the Bellevue hospital.

Mr. Phillips had been vomiting blood during the day, which symptom told the physicians that the perforation in the lung caused by a bullet which had entered the right chest and had passed out of the body near the left shoulder blade, was not healing. Dr. Eugene Fuller, Mr. Phillips' personal physician, gave the patient what relief he could, but the patient's condition became especially alarming. The excessive pain of his abdominal wound during the day, the constant leakage of blood into the throat from his lung and intestinal sufferings following the administering of ether on Monday, had worn the novelist out. During a severe spell of coughing he died.

At his bedside were Mrs. Prevert, his sister; Mr. Harrison Phillips and Dr. Fuller.

Senator Beveridge, who roomed with David Graham Phillips at Depau university, had been at his bedside during the day, arriving from Washington, but he was compelled to leave for Washington again shortly afterwards.

Many magazine writers, novelists and artists visited the hospital, but none of the callers except Senator Beveridge were permitted to visit the patient's room. Many of the visitors and others had sent floral gifts, and after they learned of the death of Mr. Phillips these were arranged about his bier.

Goldsborough Held Enmity. More evidence showing that Goldsborough held enmity toward Mr. Phillips was learned, but at best no one seemed able to piece enough of this evidence together to show why Goldsborough should have gone to the extreme of shooting Phillips or, for that matter, why Goldsborough, unless his brain were normal, should hold any enmity at all.

Stories that the violinist shot the novelist because Mr. Phillips had written a novel in which characters in one of his books, which Goldsborough thought were taken from Goldsborough's own family in Washington, where Mr. Phillips lived for a short while, were repeated to Harrison Phillips, and he was asked whether or not the publishers of the book had not sent out press notices at the time the book was published to the effect that some one had objected to the novel on the score that it caricatured members of a certain family.

Harrison Phillips replied that he remembered that notices of this character had been sent out when the book left the press. He was asked whether he thought these notices were merely the work of the publisher's publicity department or founded on fact. He said that so far as he remembered they were founded on fact. He said, however, that neither he nor his brother nor sister knew the Goldsborough family.

It was learned also that almost a year ago Goldsborough went to the city hall to complain to Mayor Gaynor about persons annoying him. During this visit the violinist mentioned to the mayor's secretary, Mr. Adamson, the name of David Graham Phillips, but not with any special show of animosity.

Grafted Shinbone Into Arm. Boston, Jan. 25.—Surgeons are interested in the operation performed by Dr. Frederick J. Cotton at the City hospital upon William Favor, in which he removed a portion of Favor's shinbone and grafted it into his arm. Favor's arm was crushed under a car it was found necessary to take out about two and a half inches of the bone of the upper arm. A sliver of bone was taken from Favor's leg and placed within the aperture of his arm. Apparently the injured man is doing well.

Rome, Jan. 25.—That America will get another cardinal and that the honor will probably fall to Archbishop Farley, of New York, is the opinion of Father Roche, formerly secretary of the Catholic Church Extension society, expressed after a special audience with the pope and also a long conference with the papal secretary of state, Cardinal Merry del Val.

Father Roche is now identified with the Canadian branch of the society and is in Rome in the interests of the organization.

TARIFF BOARD BILL IS AGREED UPON

House Committee Will Report It Favorably.

Washington, Jan. 25.—A permanent tariff board of five members to investigate all questions for the benefit of congress is provided for in a bill unanimously agreed upon by the committee on ways and means.

The bill, effective July 1, contains substantially the provisions of the Longworth and Dalzell bills.

When the White House learned that the committee had agreed unanimously to report favorably on the bill President Taft expressed great gratification. One change is made in the measure which will allow the senate as well as the house to call upon the committee for information. The bill, it is said, will be taken up next Monday under suspension of the rules, and the White House believes it will pass. Further, it believes the bill also will pass the senate, although Senator Bailey publicly intimated his intention to oppose it.

It is understood that the present members, Chairman Henry C. Emery, James B. Reynolds, of Massachusetts, and Alvin H. Sanders, of Chicago, will continue on the board, and the president will name two Democrats in the near future to fill the two additional places. So far no names have been suggested in connection with these new places.

AFIRE IN THE CLOUDS

Danish Aviator Narrowly Escapes Death When Aeroplane Burns.

Copenhagen, Jan. 25.—Svendsens, the Danish aviator, while flying in a Voisin aeroplane, heard spectators shouting.

At first he paid no attention to the cries, but at last he realized that something was wrong and, looking around, saw that flames were bursting from the framework of the aeroplane.

Descending as quickly as possible, he reached the earth just in time to avoid a serious disaster. The machine was destroyed.

Horse Falls Down Stairs.

New York, Jan. 25.—A horse that appeared in a sketch at the Savor theater fell as he was going up a runway onto the stage during a rehearsal. He whirled backward down two flights of stairs, taking the banisters with him and landed in the dressingroom of an actress, who was not in the room at the time. An agent for the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals shot the horse, which had a broken spine.

House Passes Postoffice Bill. Washington, Jan. 25.—The house passed the postoffice bill, carrying an appropriation of about $255,000,000 for the maintenance of the postal service in the fiscal year beginning July 1 next. The amount made available is approximately $4,000,000 more than was allowed for like purposes in the present year.

MARTINE SURE OF SENATE ELECTION

Smith Gives Up His Fight In New Jersey.

RELEASES HIS SUPPORTERS

Candidate Backed by Governor Wilson Came Within One Vote of Winning on First Ballot.

Trenton, N. J., Jan. 25.—The election of James E. Martine to the United States senate from New Jersey now seems assured.

Following the separate ballot taken by the senate and the assembly of the New Jersey legislature, which showed that Martine lacked only one vote of the forty-one necessary for a choice on the joint ballot, former United States Senator James Smith, Jr., who led the fight against Martine, announced that he released his supporters from their allegiance to him. This insures a large majority for Martine when the joint ballot is cast today.

When Mr. Smith heard the result of the separate ballot he threw up his hands in surrender. He had no hope of defeating Martine, but in a statement Mr. Smith puts the responsibility for sending a radical like Martine to the United States senate up to Governor Wilson. Mr. Smith in surrendering released the men pledged to him.

Mr. Martine, who, curiously enough, has not been at the state capitol since the senatorial contest began, is at his home in Plainfield, in the northern part of New Jersey, recuperating from an attack of grip. Mr. Martine operates a small farm on the outskirts of the town and takes an interest in politics.

He is a firm supporter of William J. Bryan, and all his speeches show him to be very liberal in his views on questions affecting the public. Three years ago he was a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, but was beaten by Frank S. Katzenbach.

Result of Ballot.
In the senate—Martine, 9; Stokes, 9; Fort, 1; Kean, 1.
In the house—Martine, 31; Smith, 10; Hamill, 1; Stokes, 13; Griggs, 5. Necessary to a choice, 41.

VOTE IN DELAWARE

Deadlock In State Over Dupont's Candidacy.

Dover, Del., Jan. 25.—Senator Dupont was not re-elected, although he had enough votes if they had been properly distributed.

There was no election because of the failure of the senate to show a constitutional majority.

John Edward Adkins and all the old leaders, who are working a gainst the powerful Dupont organization, say that the vote was only perfunctory, fulfilling certain pledges of the assemblymen with certain of their constituents. No what they have voted for Dupont and he has failed of election on the first day they can support who they please.

The result of the ballot follows: Senate (seventeen present)—Henry A. Dupont, Republican, 8; Willard Saulsbury, Democrat, 8; Robert G. Houston, Republican, 1, supported by Senator Drexler. No election in the senate.

House (all present)—Dupont, 22; Saulsbury, 13; necessary, 18. Dupont's majority in the house, 4.

BRIBERY IN SENATE FIGHT

West Virginia Legislator Makes This Charge and Bolts Meeting.

Charleston, W. Va., Jan. 25.—On the first ballot in the legislature W. E. Clifton received 62 votes for United States senator, full term, more than enough to elect.

Clarence Watson, for the short term, received 57 votes, two short.

Hubbard, of Wheeling, bolted the house meeting, charging bribery in caucus.

Culberson Re-elected. Austin, Tex., Jan. 25.—United States Senator Charles A. Culberson was elected United States senator for a third term by the unanimous vote of both the house and senate.

Clark Wyoming Senator. Cheyenne, Wyo., Jan. 25.—The Wyoming legislature, voting separately in the two houses, elected United States Senator D. C. Clark to succeed himself. The Democrats voted for State Senator John B. Kendrick.

Nixon Wins In Nevada. Reno, Nev., Jan. 25.—By a legislature, Democratic on joint ballot by four votes, George S. Nixon, Republican was elected to succeed himself as United States senator from Nevada.

Deadlocked Still at Albany. Albany, N. Y., Jan. 25.—There was no choice for United States senator on the sixth ballot here.

Canada's Trade. Ottawa, Jan. 25.—Trade figures for the first nine months of Canada's present fiscal year show that the total trade amounted to $577,999,628, an increase of $65,511,950. The increase was entirely in imports.

A SUBSTANTIAL ROAD OF DIRT

Illinois Commission Builds One
Without Use of Stone.

CONSTRUCTION METHOD EASY

The Severe Wear Caused by Automobiles Has Made It Necessary to Find Something Stronger Than the Macadam Road--Experiments With Mixture of Dirt and Oil Show Results.

Macadam roads have been the world's standard for many years, but under conditions of modern traffic they have so quickly worn away that in the country which boasted the enduring military roads of Napoleon a congress of the road engineers of the world was called to discuss means of preventing them from going up in smoke or dust! The iron tire of the horse drawn vehicle rolled and compacted the limestone road. The pneumatic tire of the motorcar sucks up the dust and draws it into the air to blow away. It was formerly compacted by traffic; now it is suction.

This fact has been strikingly demonstrated by the work of the state highway commission of Illinois. One of the best miles of macadam road ever constructed, and surface bound with a gravel of peculiar cementing quality, has been ripped up and blown away down to the large, sharp pointed rocks that constitute the basic course. Other experiments with oil and tar have proved the binding and protecting properties of those substances.

Value of Oil.

The value of oil of heavy asphalt base--the residuum after refining out the volatile oils--as a binder for rock roads led to experiments with it in the construction of dirt roads without the use of stone. The idea was to compact and bind the dirt so that it would be waterproof and as wearproof as possible--in other words, to bind the particles of dirt together so that traction would produce little dust. One of the most striking experiments with oil and black mud was made at Bement, in Platt county, and herewith we return to our illustrations. The Bement section ranks among the richest in central Illinois. It is rich because it is fairly bottomless. It was low lying and swampy in the olden days before the coming of the steam dredge and the tile and its roads were as impassable as that type of land affords.

It is usable all the year round for maximum loads, it is practically dustless, it requires no dragging or scraping, and it has a resiliency that saves horse and vehicle and adds much to the comfort of the occupants of wagon or carriage. After more than a year's test, the experiment must be pronounced a great success, and the best men about Bement, who have made a study of roads for many years, regard it as the solution of the problem of building mudless roads in the black prairie soils.

The method of construction was simple. The road was plowed six inches deep and the dirt scraped to each side in the bed thus made a layer of oil was sprinkled, the oil in this experiment being what is usually called 80 to 85 per cent asphalt oil. After the oil was applied two inches of dirt were scraped back into the roadway and oil and soil were thoroughly disked together.

Use of Tamper.

Then followed a tamper, an implement like a large field roller, each section of which bears closely set prongs about ten inches long, somewhat like the spikes attached to the wheels of a steam roller to tear up the road, only longer and rounded on the end. This tamper does the work its name indicates--it completes the mixture and the oil and dirt and tamps it down. After its use more oil and dirt were added until three layers had been applied, and then the steam roller completed the work.

About two and a half gallons of oil were used to the square yard. This oil sells, according to quality, at from 4 to 7 cents per gallon. Taking 5 cents as an average and building a road sixteen feet wide, which is wider than is necessary for the oil, we have a cost for oil of about $1.175 per mile. The labor cost is to be added to that. It is certainly the cheapest mudless road that has yet been devised, as the rock roads run quickly into large money when the material must be carried in by rail.

Repairs are readily made in this form of road construction. The top is plowed up, more oil added, tamped and rolled, and the surface is as good as new. It is not a road that does not need repair. No such road is built. Even the city's granite blocks wear under the creaking wheels of its heavy traffic. The fundamental fault of American country road builders is their idea that a road will stay built. It won't. It is not in the nature of things. The best of roads need repair, and wise is that commissioner who has learned that in road maintenance a stitch in time saves nine. Unfortunately not many of them have learned that fact.

Evidently the black mud regions, far from gravel and limestone, need not sit helplessly marooned in mud. A way out has apparently been found--over a solid, substantial bridge built of oil and dirt.

It is a pretty risky proposition for a girl to marry a man to reform him from the booze habit or to get him to turn over a new leaf when he's just naturally shiftless and lazy. Ten chances to one, the girl who marries the first chap will bear heartaches of a drunkard's wife, while the girl who marries the other type can safely count on building the fires in the morning, bringing in her own water, chopping a good deal of the wood and trotting to the corncrib for cows and kindling.

questions in the deaf and dumb language he was almost hooted at.

The next day the pair started off in a horse and buggy and did not return until they had visited every village in two counties.

By and by that notebook was full of memoranda to the last page and then there was a return to Ellenville. There was but one lawyer in the place. It was afterward remembered that he had never said aught against Brown. He had listened to others, but had said nothing himself. When he and Brown and Jonathan drove over to the county seat town in company one day nothing strange was thought of it, but a surprise party was on hand. Within a couple of days all the constables in the county were serving summonses on people who had slandered Brown. When Ellen county was finished the constables in Rockaway county took up the work. The number of summonses served in both counties was 308. Each one was for defamation of character and asked for $10,000 damages. The recipients of these legal papers greeted their service with laughter, but the laughing did not last long. Those who engaged lawyers and started in to fight the matter were confronted with dates, names and expressions used and had to admit they were correct. When they had done this they had no defense, and in each and every case were advised to settle.

There are always clients who will pay lawyers' fees and then take their own way. A few of the victims banded together and resisted the suits. Then it came out that Brown had been referred to as a fool, a dummy, an idiot, a hedge fence, a gorilla, a monkey, a skunk, a lunatic, a what-is-it, a con, a freak and some forty other names, and those who had refused him food and shelter because he was not pretty to look upon found ruin staring them in the face. The verdict on the contested suits was for the plaintiff, with heavy damages, and the others fell over themselves to settle.

Brown and Jonathan were not too hard hearted. No extortion was practiced, but at the end of six months, when the last case had been settled, there was a goodly pot of money. Jonathan received his salary and a good bit more, and when Brown was ready to depart he said to him: "Jonathan, never work when you can avoid it."

"I never have and never shall," was the reply. "But if you have to work--if circumstances drive you into it and you can see no possible way out, then--"

"Then work with the head instead of the hands. The wear and tear of it comes on the other fellow's suspenders instead of your own." And Brown nodded his head and went away, to be heard of no more.

A dairyman may make a margin of profit on his cows if he does not take a good general farm or dairy paper, but his chances for doing so are much improved if he has at hand in such a publication the best and latest information on the subject.

GOOD FOR DRAINAGE USE.

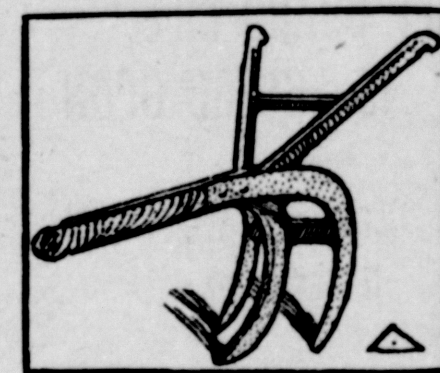

Pick Plow, Easily Made, Described and Praised by Wisconsin Farmer.

I have used this plow for digging trenches for laying the on my Wisconsin farm for many years and am surprised that so useful and efficient an implement is not in more general use, says a Wisconsin correspondent of the Orange Judd Farmer. Any good blacksmith, with an assistant, can make this plow in less than two days. An old smith and his son made mine in one day. The total cost was only $8, including a heavy four foot chain for use in hitching to the plow when it is deep down in the ditch.

I first used it in 1894. I had heard that out in Minnesota men were charging 25 cents per rod to construct drainage ditches with the steam ditching machine. I was able to build ditches more cheaply by the means of this simple homemade contrivance.

On one piece of work, by using this plow and two horses, four men made a ditch 1,050 feet long, from two and one-half to three and one-half feet deep and one foot wide, in one day, from 8 o'clock in the morning to 6 o'clock in the afternoon. This was in clay soil, which at the time happened to be very dry and was shoveled easily. If the ground had been wet, of course, so much could not have been accomplished.

In building ditches for tile I first plow it as deeply as possible, usually going over it twice with an ordinary plow. All the dirt that is not thrown out by the plow is then shoveled out. Next I go up and down the ditch with the pick plow. Ours is made to cut twelve inches wide, and by having it so strongly constructed that there is not much spring in it a uniform width and straight sides can be maintained in the ditch. After the ground is loosened we shovel out the loose dirt and then go over it again with the pick plow. We use an even eight feet long, so that the horses work far enough away from the ditch that there is no danger of their falling in. As additional depth is secured the ditch is lengthened, and the plow can be used in digging ditches three to four feet or more deep. Where we have to cross an elevation in the field which requires greater depth we go over that spot two or three times with the plow, bringing the bottom of the ditch down to the required level. Broadly speaking, the depth to which this can be used is limited only by the length of the chain to which the eveners is fastened.

PICK PLOW IN DRAIN DIGGING.

[From Orange Judd Farmer.]

There is an old Flemish proverb which reads as follows: No grass, no cattle; no cattle, no manure; no manure, no crops.

Dairy Doings.

An ounce of the fluid extract of black haw in a pint of warm water will be found very valuable for a cow threatening abortion. A half dose can be repeated in two or three hours as often as necessary.

To the man of little money and many children the Shorthorn is a bonanza, supplying milk and butter and a good salable calf at weaning time. The Jersey, Ayrshire and Holstein are great milk and butter cows, but their calves are not to be considered when seeking cattle for the feed lot.

Calves are often troubled by ring worms. It is due to a vegetable parasite. The best treatment is sulphur ointment, made of powdered sulphur, lard, oil or grease. Wash the part affected with soap and water and then apply the sulphur ointment.

Cows require from one to eight ounces of salt per day. The more concentrates they receive the more salt they require. It should be where they can have access to it every day. According to an experiment made at the Wisconsin station, about two ounces per cow per day is the average amount required.

The Kansas Agricultural college grades cream as follows: First grade cream, 30 or more per cent of butter fat; second grade, 25 per cent and less than 30; third grade, having less than 25 per cent butter fat. Creameries like to get high testing cream, say 30 and above. They make more butter from this, as the overrun is greater.

Alfalfa hay is a most excellent feed for dairy cows. The animals always relish clean, bright alfalfa hay, and its milk producing value is high. The dairyman that has plenty of alfalfa is especially fortunate.

Never allow the cows to be excited by hard driving, abuse, loud talking or unnecessary disturbance. Do not expose them to cold or storms.

If you have six cows and no separator sell one of the cows and buy a separator. You will save work and make money by the deal.

Kindness to cows is one of the essential elements in profitable dairying. No matter how well cows are fed and sheltered, they will not be good milkers if they are handled roughly.

The opening of an alfalfa meal mill at Rifle, Colo., was celebrated in fit yet decidedly unique fashion. A banquet was served, and every article on the bill of fare was made of or served with alfalfa. The turkey was stuffed with alfalfa, the biscuits were made of alfalfa, and leaves of it were served instead of spinach. Salad made of alfalfa was served, and the beverages were alfalfa tea and cider. Footstools made of alfalfa straw were distributed. The chief toast of the evening was on "Alfalfa and Apple."
